BODY OF DEFAULTER FOUND IN THE BAY

Charles W. Haberle Disappeared from East Orange on April 6.

AN ASSISTANT POSTMASTER

Inspectors Discovered Shortage of $5,000 in His Accounts -Held Place Thirteen Years.

Charles W. Haberle, the defaulting assistant postmaster of East Orange, who had been missing from his home since April 6, committed suicide by drowning. it became known yesterday, when his body was found floating between the Statue of Liberty and the powder barges of the du Pont company, in New York Bay. The body had been in the water for several weeks, and it is believed that Haberle committed suicide on the day he left East Orange.

William Fankock, of No. 173 Randolph avenue, Jersey City, a fisherman, was taking a party of men to the fishing grounds in his launch yesterday morning, when he saw an object floating in the water several hundred vards to the west of the Liberty statue. When the boat approached nearer Fankock saw it was the body of a man. He made line fast to the body and towed it to Philip street, Jersey City, from where it was removed to the morgue. Several letters were found in the pockets, as well as various bits of jewelry bearing the initial "H." One of the letters was addressed to C. W. Haberle, No. 371 Walnut street, East Orange, and from this letter his identity was discov-

The police got into communication with Haberle's family, in East Orange, and Harold, his cldest sen, went to the morgue and positively identified the body as that of his father.

Haberle, who had always borne un excellent reputation in East Orange, had been assistant postmaster there for had never touched the man until after he disappeared on the night of April 6. On April 8 two postoffice inspectors atrived in East Orange for the purpose of going over Haberle's accounts.

The regiment left the armory, at Park avenue and 66th street, and marched to the eubway, where special cars were awaiting it. When the station at 110th street and Broadway was reached the regiment fell into line and marched to the cathedral, where a large crowd awaited it.

The only decoration was the Stars and Stripes draped over the pulpit. Bishop Greer was formerly chaptain of the 7th, and is at present its honorary chaptain. It was able to attend, and the sermon was delivered by the present chaplain, the Rev. E. McCord, assisted by Dean Grosvenor and Canons Jones and Voorhees.
